A History of Scandal, Corruption and Cronyism

Liberty Guard

Dear Concerned American,

Liberty Guard is publishing this booklet on Hillary Rodham Clinton's history of scandal, corruption and cronyism because you won't hear much about it from the mainstream news media.

This booklet provides a summary of Hillary Clinton's most serious scandals (that we know about so far), including many probable crimes.

Our goal is to have tens of millions of Americans reading this little book before the 2016 Election so that Americans can make an informed decision with their vote.

But we need your immediate help to do this. It costs us about $1 to send a copy of this little book through the mail to one American citizen.

So if you are able to send LIBERTY GUARD a donation of $25, for example, this will allow us to distribute a copy of this little book via postal mail to 25 citizens.

If you are able to send a $15 donation, we can put this booklet in the mailboxes of 15 Americans.

Will you help make this HILLARY CLINTON BOOK DISTRIBUTION CAMPAIGN the success I know it will be if every patriot who reads this letter contributes what they can?

Most members and supporters of LIBERTY GUARD are sending donations in the $15 to $25 range — though some of our friends are blessed to be able to send larger donations of $50, $100, $500, $1,000 or even more, while our other friends are making an equal sacrifice by sending donations of $12, $10 or even $8.

Every dollar we receive in donations matters, and will be used immediately to put copies of this little book in the hands of a voters. Please do what you can to help!

Sincerely,

Congressman Bob Barr
Member of Congress, 1995-2003
Former United States Attorney
Founder and Chairman, LIBERTY GUARD

- 1) NEW YORK TIMES: Here's how the Clintons arranged the transfer of 20 percent of U.S. uranium assets to Russia.

Canadian uranium billionaire Frank Giustra and Bill Clinton flew to Kazakhstan together. Giustra then landed a huge uranium mining deal. Giustra donated $31 million and pledged another $100 million to the Clinton Foundation. In 2010 a Russian company wanted to buy Uranium One, which had taken over Giustra's company. The new Chairman of Uranium One, Ian Telfer, secretly donated $2.35 million to the Clinton Foundation, which failed to report this money. In June of 2010, Bill Clinton was paid $500,000 to deliver a speech in Moscow. In October of 2010, the U.S. State Department under Hillary Clinton approved the sale of Uranium One to the Russian company. The $135 million in donations the Clinton Foundation received from investors in Uranium One were never disclosed, violating Hillary's signed deal with the Obama administration. Uranium is the essential element needed to make nuclear weapons. Thanks to Hillary, Russia now controls 20 percent of U.S. uranium.

- 2) HUFFINGTON POST: Clintons were paid at least $3.4 million for 18 speeches funded by banks invested in the Keystone XL pipeline. Hillary Clinton's State Department then approved the building of the Keystone Pipeline (which President Obama then overruled and nixed).

- 3) INTERNATIONAL BUSINESS TIMES: 20 countries that donated substantial money to the Clinton Foundation were approved by the State Department to receive $1.65 billion in weapons from the United States.
- 4) WASHINGTON POST: In violation of an ethics agreement Hillary had signed with the Obama Administration, the Clintons failed to disclose the names of 1,100 donors to the Clinton Foundation from foreign countries.
- 5) VOX: At least 181 major donors to the Clinton Foundation had business before Hillary's State Department and lobbied Hillary's State Department.
- 6) BUZZFEED: At least two of Hillary Clinton's top donors were major felons who are now serving long prison terms for fraud.

- 7) CLINTON CASH book: The corrupt international soccer governing federation FIFA donated $100,000 to the Clinton Foundation.
- 8) CLINTON CASH book: The Qatar 2022 Olympic Committee donated $750,000 to the Clinton Foundation.
- 9) CLINTON CASH book: The corrupt Islamic regime of Qatar (headquarters for many terrorist organizations) has donated between $1 million and $5 million to the Clinton Foundation, but the Foundation won't reveal the exact number.
- 10) ASSOCIATED PRESS: The Clintons have a secret "pass through" company called WJC, LLC designed to channel secret payments to the Clintons.
- 11) NEW YORK TIMES: Long-time political hatchet man for the Clintons, Sidney Blumenthal, received a salary of $10,000 per month from the Clinton Foundation to perform tasks for Hillary and to help lay the groundwork for Hillary's 2016 Presidential run. This is a good example of how the Clintons are using the Clinton Foundation illegally to finance Hillary's run for President. The tax-exempt purpose of the Clinton Foundation is supposed to be for charity, not to fund Hillary's political operations.

- 12) WASHINGTON POST: Entities who are top Clinton Foundation donors also paid Bill and Hillary at least $26 million in speaking fees, suggesting the Clinton Foundation acts more as a personal slush fund for the Clintons than a charitable endeavor.

- 13) WASHINGTON TIMES: The Clinton Foundation spent just 10 percent of the $1.8 billion it raised on charitable endeavors. Most of the money was spent on lavish travel, staff, overhead and to pay friends of the Clintons. The Clinton Foundation has acted as a corrupt shadow campaign operation for Hillary's 2016 run for the Presidency.

- 14) CHRIS WALLACE, FOX NEWS: After the devastating earthquake in Haiti in 2010, Bill Clinton was appointed co-chair of the Haitian Relief Committee which approved millions of dollars in new projects for the relief effort. In 2010 and 2011, Digicel, a mobile phone company, received more than $2 million to set up a money transfer program in Haiti. The company's owner, Irish billionaire Dennis O'Brien, arranged four speeches for Clinton for $825,000 and contributed between $1 million and $5 million to the Clinton Foundation. That was the vague disclosure in the Clinton Foundation tax returns, which would not reveal the exact number.

- 15) CHRIS WALLACE, FOX NEWS:
For the first time in 50 years, a gold mining permit was granted giving VCS Mining, which was a startup company, permission to mine gold in Haiti. On the board of this mining company is Tony Rodham, the brother of Hillary Rodham Clinton. Tony Rodham has no background in mining.
- 16) Between 2001 and 2012, Bill Clinton made 13 speeches for which he was paid $500,000 or more per speech. Eleven of those 13 speeches were at least eight years after he left the presidency, while Hillary was Secretary of State. In other words, Bills Clinton's speaking fees went up exponentially when Hillary became Secretary of State, when foreign companies had business involving the State Department. So this appears to be a blatant system of bribery.

- 17) After revelations that tens of millions of dollars in foreign donations poured into the Clinton Foundation became public, the foundation announced it would refile five years of tax returns. In one three-year period, it omitted tens of millions of dollars in foreign contributions, reporting "zero" to the IRS. In another two-year period, it admitted to overreporting government grants by more than $100 million.
- 18) The estimated net worth of the Clintons is now $150 million — all gained in the 15 years since Bill Clinton left office. Did Bill and Hillary make this money by inventing something, or by manufacturing something, or building something of value? No. They made their money by trading on their connections in government. Mostly they were bribed in the form of lavish speaking and consulting fees by corporations that had business before the government. Is a single speech by Bill Clinton really worth $500,000? Is the content of his speeches really this valuable?

Other Major Hillary Clinton Scandals

1) Clintons use IRS as weapon against critics

Barack Obama and his Administration were not the first to use the IRS against political critics. The Clintons perfected this to a science in the 1990s. Under the Clinton Administration, many prominent conservative organizations were audited by the IRS — including the Heritage Foundation, the National Rifle Association, Concerned Women for America, Citizens Against Government Waste, National Review, American Spectator, the National Center for Public Policy Research, the American Policy Center, American Cause, Citizens for Honest Government, Progress and Freedom Foundation, David Horowitz's Center for the Study of Popular Culture, the Western Journalism Center and more.

Individuals singled out for audits during the Clinton administration included the women Bill Clinton had affairs with — Gennifer Flowers and Liz Ward Gracen — as well as his sexual assault accusers Paula Jones, Juanita Broaddrick and Kathleen Willey, along with fired

White House Travel Office Director Billy Dale and attorney Kent Masterson Brown. Fox News' Bill O'Reilly was audited three times under the Clinton presidency.

The Washington Times and The Wall Street Journal were unable to find a single liberal organization that had been audited by the IRS.

2) FBI "Filegate": Using the FBI to Conduct Opposition Research Against Critics of the Clintons

In the 1990s, Hillary Clinton spearheaded the illegal collection of FBI background files on political opponents of the Clintons.

President Richard Nixon's Special Counsel Chuck Colson went to prison for improperly accessing just one FBI background file (that of Daniel Ellsberg) and leaking some of its contents to the New York Times. In the case of the Clintons, more than 900 FBI background files were illegally ordered up from the FBI by a former bar bouncer named Craig Livingstone, who had been hired by Hillary to this job.

When this scandal was exposed, Hillary dismissed it has just a "bureaucratic snafu."

Political commentators have theorized that one reason Republican leaders are so reluctant to take on Obama and the Clinton political machine in any serious way is because of all the dirt Obama and the Clintons have on Republican leaders (including likely sexual and financial misconduct) that can be released by the Obama-Clinton machine at any time — information gained from access to FBI background files as well as tax returns at the IRS.

3) Emailgate: Putting U.S. National Security at Risk

As Secretary of State, Hillary Clinton was using a private email account for almost all her official State Department email communications and storing this email correspondence on a private server in her home in Chappaqua, New York, in violation of Obama Administration regulations.

If some of this email correspondence was classified government information (as appears likely), this would amount to theft of classified information and would be a felony. More seriously, foreign adversaries of the United States such as Russia, China, North Korea, Iran and radical Islamists hack U.S. government computers all the time. It would appear certain that enemies of the United State had full access to Hillary's private server, which had sub-standard security.

Hillary has so far delivered 55,000 of her emails to the State Department for inspection. But she says she deleted 30,000 emails and wiped her server clean, apparently in an effort to conceal the contents of these emails. This amounts to willful destruction of government property — so is also a felony. It also amounts to willful obstruction of a Congressional investigation — an additional felony — as well as willful refusal to comply with a Congressional subpoena, which is yet another potential felony.

4) Chinagate

The Clinton Administration granted waivers to Loral Space and other American high-tech companies to sell missile guidance system technology to China in exchange for at least $5,000,000 in donations to the 1996 Clinton-Gore reelection effort. This technology allowed China's nuclear missile program to leap 10 years forward almost instantly.

Julius and Ethel Rosenberg received the death penalty for selling America's atomic bomb secrets to the Soviet Union. But the Clintons got away with Chinagate scot free.

5) Pay to Play

The Clintons sold seats to fat cat Democrat donors on trade missions to foreign countries, including China, organized by the Department of Commerce in exchange for $50,000 donations to the 1996 Clinton-Gore reelection effort.

It's a serious violation of law to use federal government assets to raise money for political campaigns.

Also, using government assets to, in effect, solicit bribes from corporations is a felony. For government officials to solicit bribes, period, is a felony.

Spearheading the effort was a man named John Huang, a top fundraiser at the Democratic National Committee who also served as Deputy Secretary of Commerce. Huang pled guilty to felony campaign finance law violations. But, again, nothing happened to the Clintons.

6) Keeping a Lid on Bill's "Bimbo Eruptions"

Hillary dismissed revelations of Bill's many infidelities as part of a "vast right wing conspiracy" to smear Bill Clinton's character.

So the Clintons hired private detectives to dig up dirt against Bill's female accusers. Clinton advisor James Carville once famously said of Paula Jones and Bill's other female accusers: "If you drag a $100 bill through a trailer park, you never know what you'll find."

Virtually all of Bill's female targets were audited by the IRS, including Gennifer Flowers, Liz Ward Gracen, Paula Jones, Juanita Broaddrick and Kathleen Willey.

The Clintons' vilifying, stalking and targeting these women with IRS audits and smears against their character was all part of a carefully planned strategy to terrify these women into silence. Clinton political operative Betsy Wright worried in 1992 about what she called Bill's constant

"bimbo eruptions" derailing his 1992 Presidential campaign.

Betsy Wright and Hillary were consumed with silencing these "bimbo eruptions" at all costs. When Bill was governor, Hillary sent out a group of investigators known at the "Truth Squad" to discourage many of her husband's lovers from going public.

The real "war on women" has been conducted by the Bill and Hillary Clinton political machine.

7) Using the Lincoln Bedroom at the White House as a Fundraising Perk for Mega-Donors

Bill and Hillary Clinton had more than 800 donors to their political campaigns stay in the Lincoln Bedroom at the White House. These guests contributed $5.4 million to Bill Clinton's 1996 re-election effort.

It's illegal to use the White House and government resources for political fundraising or for any political campaign purpose. The White House belongs to the American people. It is not the property of Bill and Hillary Clinton.

8) Looting and Vandalizing the White House

In 2001 on the way out of office, Bill and Hillary Clinton tried to steal $190,000 of White House furniture, china, and items, including a presidential seal.

When the theft was uncovered by the General Accounting Office and made public, it appears most of the items were returned, though some items (which belong to America's taxpayers) had already been auctioned off by the Clintons.

In an act of peevish disrespect to incoming President George W. Bush, the letter "W" was removed from all White House computer keyboards during the Clintons' way out the door.

Graffiti disparaging the Bushes had to be cleaned off the bathroom walls and painted over, Glue was smeared on White House desks that had to be removed. Furniture was smashed. Garbage was strewn all over the floors.

The General Accounting Office concluded that these acts of vandalism were intentional, not the result of normal living and use. These acts of vandalism to the White House (America's House) by Team Clinton cost taxpayers tens of thousands of dollars.

9) White House Travel Officegate

Hillary Clinton learned that millions of dollars in travel agency commissions could be had by anyone who had the enormous White House travel business. So Hillary fired the White House Travel Office's seven employees and gave the positions to political cronies from Arkansas. The Clintons also wanted the travel business to go through a Clinton friend, Harry Thomason, but that stopped once the scandal came to light.

The fired head of the White House Travel Office, Billy Dale, was then indicted on trumped up charges of embezzlement. A jury acquitted Dale after less than two hours of deliberation. Dale was then audited by the IRS, as happens with almost everyone who has the misfortune of getting in the way of the Clintons. Dale had served in the White House Travel Office for three decades and was about retire.

10) Cattlegate

Hillary Clinton turned a $1,000 investment in "cattle futures" into a $99,537 profit in nine months because of a high-placed connection at Tyson Foods — in other words, likely insider trading.

People go to prison for insider trading.

Tyson Foods was a major donor to the Clintons and the largest employer in Arkansas. Tyson Foods went on to benefit from several state regulatory rulings, including favorable environmental rulings in Arkansas. Tyson Foods also received a $9,000,000 loan from the state.

So Hillary's Cattlegate scandal likely involved both insider trading and bribery — both potential felonies.

11) Whitewater: Prison for Clinton Friends, But Not for the Clintons

Clinton business partners James and Susan McDougal, Governor Jim Guy Tucker and judges David Hale and Eugene Fitzhugh went to prison for the failed fraudulent land deal known as the Whitewater scam, but the Clintons managed to escape.

This fraud caused the collapse of Madison

Guaranty Savings and Loan, costing taxpayer $73 million.

Susan McDougal served 22 months in jail for contempt for refusing to answer "three questions" for a grand jury about whether Bill Clinton lied in his testimony during her Whitewater trial.

Madison S&L owner James McDougal ended up dying in prison mysteriously while in solitary confinement after prison officials failed to get him the heart medication he needed. McDougal's death occurred shortly before his scheduled testimony against the Clintons. In all, 15 close associates of the Clintons were convicted of committing 40 crimes in the Whitewater fraud.

But the Clintons somehow managed to escape prison.

12) Hillary's "Missing" Rose Law Firm Billing Records

In 1994, federal investigators subpoenaed Hillary's billing records from her days as a partner at the Rose Law Firm during the Whitewater scandal.

The Clintons claimed the 115 pages of billing records had been lost. The records were discovered in 1996 sitting in plain view on a table in the White House by a White House staffer.

The billing records contradicted Hillary's account of her involvement with the failed Madison Savings & Loan (owned by James McDougal and central to the Whitewater fraud). Her billing records showed that her legal work for the savings and loan was extensive and detailed, not minimal as she had claimed.

13) The Mysterious "Suicide" of Deputy White House Counsel Vince Foster

Deputy White House Counsel Vince Foster turned up dead in Fort Marcy Park in 1993 with a gunshot wound to his head, ruled a suicide by Park Police. Foster had also been a personal legal counsel to the Clintons, was a longtime close personal friend of the Clintons and had extensive knowledge of the Whitewater scandal.

Within hours of Foster's death, investigators were kept waiting outside Foster's office while White House staffers (including Hillary's Chief of Staff Maggie Williams and former bar bouncer Craig Livingstone) removed armloads of files on the Whitewater scandal from Foster's office.

The files were kept by the Clintons for five days before they were turned over to the Clintons' personal lawyers.

14) Pardongate

On the way out of office, Bill Clinton pardoned a number of shady figures who happened also to be large contributors to the Clintons. Among them were pardons for Marc Rich, who was indicted on 50 counts of racketeering. He had fled to Switzerland rather than face trial and was on the FBI's "Most Wanted List" when Clinton pardoned him. Marc Rich's wife made significant contributions to Hillary's 2000 Senate campaign and the Clinton Presidential Library.

Other bizarre pardons were for drug kingpin Carlos Vignali and convicted fraudster Glenn Braswell.

Hillary Clinton's brothers Tony and Hugh Rodham reportedly received hundreds of thousands of dollars in payments from Vignali and Braswell. Reports quote Rodham as telling a top White House aide that it would be "very important to Hillary" for Vignali to receive a pardon.

15) Hillary Defends Child Rapist, Laughs About It.

In 1975, Hillary Clinton as young lawyer provided legal defense to a child rapist. As part of her defense of the rapist, she accused the 12-year-old female victim of exaggerating and encouraging the attack. Because of a legal technicality, she was able to help the child rapist escape a long prison term.

Clinton's defense strategy included aggressive claims against the 12-year old that she "sought out older men" and was "emotionally unstable."

An audio tape has since emerged capturing Hillary laughing about her success in the case and suggesting she thought the man indeed had raped the 12-year-old girl. On the tape, she was clearly expressing pride in her legal skills.

"It was a fascinating case, it was a very interesting case," Hillary said on the tape. "This guy was accused of raping a 12-year-old. [Of] course he claimed that he didn't. All this stuff ... I had him take a polygraph, which he passed, which forever destroyed my faith in polygraphs."

She then burst out laughing.

16) Benghazi: Four Americans Killed Due to Hillary's Negligence

On September 11, 2012, Islamic terrorists launched an attack against the U.S. Consulate in Benghazi, Libya, killing U.S. Ambassador Christopher Stevens and three other Americans. Security at the U.S. Consulate was substandard, given that this is one of the most dangerous parts of the world.

Security for U.S. Embassies and diplomatic personnel was the responsibility of the U.S. State Department under Hillary. Repeated requests for more security at the consulate were denied by the State Department under Hillary.

Public records reveal the Hillary knew there was a well-planned terrorist attack planned for that day. But on September 14, 2012 (two full days after the attack), Hillary lied to America claiming that the attack was the result of "rage and violence over an awful Internet video" — referring to an anti-Islam video on YouTube that almost no one had seen.

The reason the Obama Administration wanted to blame the attack on this obscure YouTube video was to advance the narrative of Obama's 2012 re-election campaign that President Obama had won the war on terror. Hillary actively participated in this lie.

Within days of the attack, the hapless maker of the video was locked up in jail for more than a year on trumped up charges that he had violated his parole conditions by making this video. His parole stemmed from a conviction for writing bad checks.

Congressman Trey Gowdy (R-SC), who chairs the House committee investigating the Benghazi attack, says the State Department continues to stonewall investigators and has yet to comply with his committee's subpoenas to turn over records and documents.

When pressed on the lies Hillary told America about the origin of the Benghazi attack that resulted in the death of U.S.

Ambassador Christopher Stevens and three other Americans, including a Navy SEAL, Hillary famously answered: "What difference does it make?"

17) Hillary Clinton and Her Radical Mentor Saul Alinsky

Hillary Clinton is such a fan of Saul Alinsky that she wrote her 92-page senior honors thesis on the radical "community organizer." Hillary met with Alinsky several times when she was writing her thesis. After Alinsky's death in 1972, Hillary maintained a long relationship extending into the 1990s with Alinsky's main community organizing group called the Industrial Areas Foundation, or IAF.

Alinsky authored a famous book titled Rules for Radicals that became the handbook for the radical Left on how to take over America's governing and educational institutions.

Alinsky dedicated his book to Lucifer with this creepy inscription:

"Lest we forget at least an over-the-shoulder acknowledgment to the very first radical: from all our legends, mythology and history (and who is to know where mythology leaves off and history begins — or which is which), the first radical known to man who rebelled against the establishment and did it so effectively that he at least won his own kingdom — Lucifer."

Alinsky also said this in an interview with Playboy magazine in 1972:

"Hell would be heaven for me. All my life I've been with the have-nots. Over here, if you're a have-not, you're short of dough. If you're a have-not in hell, you're short of virtue. Once I get into hell, I'll start organizing the have-nots over there."

Hillary has been especially skilled at following this Alinsky rule for radicals: "True revolutionaries do not flaunt their radicalism," Alinsky wrote. "The trick is to penetrate existing institutions such as churches, unions and political parties" — which is exactly what Hillary has done so well.

About Liberty Guard

Liberty Guard was established with one specific mission: Protect and Defend Individual Liberty.

Due to the increase in the size and scope of government on all levels, the fight for liberty must take place on many levels and make use of diverse methods.

Established as a 501(c)(4) under IRS code, Liberty Guard is a not-for-profit organization that engages in public education campaigns, court action, and legislative action. Liberty Guard makes full use of the media, courts, legislative influence and, most importantly, the energy of its supporters to advance and defend liberty.

About Liberty Guard's Founder and Chairman Bob Barr

Bob Barr represented the 7th District of Georgia in the U. S. House of Representatives from 1995 to 2003, serving as a senior member of the Judiciary Committee, as Vice-Chairman of the Government Reform Committee, and as an eight-year veteran of the Committee on Financial Services.

Barr was also one of the House Managers who secured the Impeachment of President William Jefferson Clinton by the U.S. House of Representatives.

Prior to his service in Congress, Barr was appointed by President Ronald Reagan to serve as U.S. Attorney for the Northern District of Georgia — a post Barr held until 1990. Barr's office prosecuted state and local officials, members of the Medellin drug cartel, and got a perjury indictment on then-sitting Republican Congressman Pat Swindall, who ultimately served a year in prison on the charges.

Because of his role as a House Manager in the Impeachment Trial of President Clinton and for his aggressive advocacy of restoring the Federal government to its Constitutional limits, Barr became a priority target of the Democrats. The Democrat-controlled Georgia legislature redrew and dismantled Barr's Congressional district — removing Barr's voters and giving him new voters, thus assuring his defeat in 2002.

Barr launched Liberty Guard in 2009 to defend liberty and restore Constitution government to America.
